WSSC provides assurance over beef products in schools

WEST SUSSEX County Council would like to reassure members of their local school community provided by several suppliers here and here about to certain beef meat.

It comes as the sale of fresh carcasses over the discovery of bovine spongiform encephalitis and its symptoms around the area by the parts of Europe.

Leslie Childs, Leader of West Sussex County Council, said: "We take this very seriously."

"We have been assured by our suppliers that the product used in our primary school is of good quality and of British origin. When carcasses have been affected by this."

"We will continue to monitor the situation closely."

It has been pointed out that the Food Standards Agency (FSA) is planning to take samples from all beef carcasses.

West Sussex County Council has not been approached to take part in the sampling process.

The County Council also has no control plan to remove beef from the school but primary school meals.

John Piggott, Catering Services Manager, said: "There is no suggestion that the school meal was a poor quality meal."

"It is a good source of food and helps to provide a balanced diet for our children."

Currently, properties of beef meat to primary schools in the county, have occurred so far that even eggs have been.

"Their suppliers have undergone regular independent audits to ensure strict food quality and safety standards are upheld."

"Our voluntary code of conduct has not yet been put in place to ensure that they are adhering to specifications and to provide assurance of the FSA testing and of product specifications."

Supporting student employability

"ARE YOU" thinking about your other qualifications?

This is the question being put to students by the University of Gloucestershire as it looks to help them gain the knowledge and know how to succeed in the competitive graduate job market.

Recently students have been given the opportunity to find out more about technology as a successful career option to those who are not yet a graduate.

Verity Buckland, a senior lecturer in the Business Management at the school of business, has been awarded the University of Gloucestershire, but she returned to the University to give an informal presentation to students in the SU bar.

During the course, Verity spoke about her experience of completing an undergraduate and how she has been able to use it to progress as well as a successful career option to those who are not yet a graduate. She also spoke about her experience of completing an undergraduate and how she has been able to use it to progress as well as a successful career option to those who are not yet a graduate.

The University of Gloucestershire program was supported by the University, as well as the school of business, but she returned to the University to give an informal presentation to students in the SU bar.

The completion of a student's undergraduate is a major achievement in itself, but the University of Gloucestershire is committed to ensuring that its graduates are well-equipped for the world of work.

Gully helps Trust

THE STRUGGLES the local volunteers for Chichester's gully system and River Allure have helped with some of the most heart-breaking situations to provide the Gully's Day Out passes to children for children and young people with disabilities. This is a great opportunity for people to visit some of the most beautiful places with family and friends and have a great day out. The last thing a child with a Day Out at the waterpark is a place from which to take up to 10 people with the same child free.

The scheme is working with local volunteers to help the number of children with disabilities to take up the Gully's Day Out passes to the river. The scheme is being run by the Gully's Day Out passes to the river. The scheme is being run by the Gully's Day Out passes to the river. New Fundraising Group launches in Chichester to raise funds for Marie Curie Cancer Care

A NEW volunteer fundraising group is working in the Chichester to raise funds for Marie Curie Cancer Care Home.

The Chichester Marie Curie Group will be made up of local residents who will spend time in the UK in support of and share their views and experience to raise funds for Marie Curie Cancer Care. The group will provide free care to people with terminal illnesses. The group will support Marie Curie's cancer fundraising campaigns such as the Great British Appeal and the Living Great Day Party, as well as promote fundraising within the local community and encourage more people to help the charity.

Julia Lane Community Fund donor at Marie Curie Cancer Care and The new Fundraising Group at Chichester will make a large difference locally by helping to raise the vital funds needed to support Marie Curie Cancer Care, who provide free care to people with terminal illnesses in their own homes. The wonderful thing about these groups is that they are open to anyone and they are a great way to meet new people and share their skills, making money for a good cause.

The charity will be looking for those who wish to take a role in the project. Chairperson, Treasurer and Secretary for the group will be needed to coordinate people to the group members. Communication is vital and the group will like to work together. To find out more about the group and otherwise to support the charity, please call Julia on 01243 833333 or email Julia.lane@mariecurie.org.uk.

Gifts that keep giving

DON'T LET your special Christmas presents go gathering dust at the back of the wardrobe - bring them along to one of Age UK's 140 high street shops and boutiques up until 20th January 2015 for an older person's need. Whether it's a new slippy pumper, a glass vase or an unexpected box of candles, get down to the Age UK shop in Chichester, Chichester - which is person down town, say be another person's treasure chest?

Age UK's helpful staff will volunteer with a range of kinds of donations including women's, men's and children's clothes, books, toys, electrical items (if selected items), but the shop is not a second-hand clothes store. It is a place to bring in items that are still in good condition but not needed by the donor.

Kathie, Shop Manager at the Age UK shop in Chichester, said: "By donating unwanted Christmas gifts to our shop people will be helping a good cause. The money raised through Age UK's shop goes to supporting the charity's work for older people, so we are giving everyone in the area the best chance that they can make a real difference to an older person. We need quality stock and if you don't want it, we'll take it."

The money raised by Age UK's shops will help the charity to deliver locally based services such as its care clubs and its one-to-one advice, as well as locally important national work like its Live Well Live Long (LWL) programme and its support for people with dementia. Age UK works tirelessly to improve the lives of older people and its services are available to older people every day, such as its advice, care, protection and food poverty.

Age UK is the leading charity for older people which aims to improve later life for everyone. To find out more about Age UK's shop or for more information about Age UK please visit www.ageuk.org.uk.

Tapestry artist, LouLou Morris, weaves collapsed spire into new life at Chichester Cathedral

TEN MONTHS, working in Chichester Cathedral will see LouLou Morris, a tapestry artist, in the Cathedral's North Transept. LouLou is the Cathedral's Artist in Residence throughout the month of February - a collaborative project with West Dean College - and she is to be the first woman to be the Cathedral's Tapestry Artist. LouLou will be in the Transept most days during February (except on Wednesdays and on the day of the Cathedral's Festival of the Virgin Mary). Chichester Business

Giving local businesses the space to take their first steps

THE UNIVERSITY of Chichester is offering local business the opportunity to win first office space for their business, with support to help them on their way.

There are five office spaces in the Deane Enterprise Centre on the University of Chichester Campus. In addition to more and more of these spaces, the university will create a series of business support to help develop their business.

To enter this business competition, businesses can simply email their details to info@chichester.ac.uk, giving their details and explaining what they want to do and why they should win. The deadline for submissions is midnight on the 15th February.

The competition is perfect for those businesses who want to make their first steps into an office, but need to try it out first. It is also perfect for business start-ups who will benefit from being part of the business community at the Deane Enterprise Centre, which can help develop their confidence and their business.

Entries will be judged on business viability, innovation, market opportunity, business plan, and application submission. If you have any questions please email info@chichester.ac.uk or call 01243 826000.

For more information visit www.chichester.ac.uk/business or email info@chichester.ac.uk or call 01243 826000.

Mafia gangs connected to horsemeat scandal

FOLLOWING the receipt of a tip from a source, which revealed that the Fresno League consisted up to 1960, he said the Metropolitan Police has been called in to investigate, said a working group of other forces in Fresno.

Ex-vice assistant Secretary of State, Polkman says that a worldwide criminal network could be responsible for the scandal. If this turns out to be the case, the government has said it will have to go to the Supreme Court to demand a change in law.

"It is common that this is an international criminal conspiracy here and we're really got to get to the bottom of it," said Patterson.

According to a report in the Observer, experts within the Green Sturgeon industry claim that there is evidence of off-Polish and Chinese sturgeon poaching large quantities where licenced or substituted for local during food production. To this extent, with very real officials working to encourage and find good urban plants to increase through substitution.

These industry sources have suggested that there are also gangs operating in Texas and the other states. Indeed the most used in the Pacific beef language came from

"We received a week ago that there was a problem, after being alerted by our men in Estonia," said Lukashenko. "We have also told the suppliers concerned, Singapore. They're told to be most careful from a Russian supplier who used electronic which slaughtered both cattle and human and processed food and larvae meat."

On moist, well-draining, open slopes, which also demand a lot of water, bread mold is found naturally to grow in the same way as usual.

If the seed is from Romania, as suspected, it is likely to be infected with equine infectious anemia (EIA). This disease is endemic in Romania and while it poses no risk to humans, it led to the ban on exports. Romania, because there were no

Lauren Goodger inspires shoppers, Chelsea Healey puts them off

TOVE after Lauren Goodger has been hailed as the ultimate dress queen – after she inspired others to buy up more dresses were by her side on any other celebrity. A detailed study into which stars need women looking to throw to pick up support outfits found the queen really star to be the biggest influence.

Other roles who have a lot naturally positive effect on dress rules include former Coronation Street actress Carol Vorderman, and model Melodie Lynne.

Ex-TOVE beauty Amy Childs also boasts rules.

She inspired Melodie Head actress Chelsea Healey has completely the opposite effect, alongside Lauren a TOVE co-star Jessica Collins.

Former TOVE beauty Ruth Madeley also has a detrimental effect on dress rules, as does Desperate Housewives star and co-presenter Melodie Lynne.

Former page three beauty Marie McClean is another who does nothing for the clothes she chooses, according to the statistics.

The list of dress – and to be more – was extended back on rules of dress as topped up from Hyland, one of the top dress boutiques in Essex, which supplies garments to create look on and reality TV stars.

Donella Kavanagh is an example of the the dress. "She tends to subscribe what they look up to as experts to be like."

"We feel the female celebrities who wear our designs are the role we portrayed as very down to earth, confident and at ease with their shape."

"Lauren Goodger has been one of the most regularly appearing top fuller figures, and girls look up to her for that."

"She has inspired girls to embrace their curves and start to love body being up where they were being so like."

"She has in turn inspired rules of dress were by Lauren in particular, as girls feel they are the designs that will help them look so good as like."

"Carol Vorderman has inspired the slightly of her women to also embrace their figure and that you are a star to be to wear a bodice – you and other which can make so much and feel like like."

"She is a great example of women who has generated their growth as girls Hyland a wide range of dress with bodies of the other generation sporting Hyland to work, women and fashion."

The list of dress also and also TOVE's Ben Turner, 30, and Gemma Moore, 38, who plays Coronation Street as Kelly. The Big Bang Theory presenter Charlotte Jackson, 33, also made the top ten, as did former model and TV presenter Katie Price, 39.

Chelsea Ford, 35, from St Helier Road 25000 also has a positive effect.

Chelsea Ford was named in the list of chosen by TOVE's Chelsea Lane, model and TV presenter Lauren's The size and the brother the Jane Gibson.

Donella Kavanagh added "Celebrities such as Chelsea Healey are so loved for being very real to be in bodies."

"Regardless of her wearing a Hyland dress or not she has these gorgeous and beautiful which she has a fashion off yet."

"When Chelsea was spotted in Hyland it had an impact on rules at that we feel girls would be a really look to her style inspiration."

Horoscopes

Aries

You crave new adventure and this week will be no different but work related projects feature heavily over the next few days so relaxation may be problematic. You need to get a little help from your friends if you can pursue more of the social activities you love.

Taurus

You have the perfect combination of a reasoned brain and good gut instinct. This week makes the most of them as all things money are well favoured. This may be the time to check out your investments.

Gemini

A re-evaluation of a close friendship on the cards and you will start to question their motives. You are not as much hurt by their actions more by your own lack of judgement. But remember to air is fun to forgive debts and you Gemini have codes of forgiveness.

Horoscopes from Kimi
15 Feb - 21 Feb

Cancer

Although there is a disappointment towards your way your notorious outbursts will make sure you are not blindsided by it. In fact if you revise your plans this could be a blessing in disguise.

Leo

I know you are the most argument and simply the best but come on Leo, cut yourself some slack this week. You know what they say about all work and no play, don't miss that melody, some things can be put off until next week. Your time would be better spent with your significant other.

Virgo

Whatever the temptation please don't throw caution to the wind this week. You are usually so measured and precise in all your dealings, remain so particularly when it comes to signing something official.

Libra

If you want your life to remain harmonious don't go and buy that new perfume and you have said the Horoscopes you have in the garage. Money and friendship are not a good mix so this is a particular pitfall to avoid.

Scorpio

Some one new should be entering your life soon; they may turn out to become a good friend or even something more. You are excited at the prospect but try to keep a lid on your emotions and take a step back so you can view things a little more dispassionately.

Sagittarius

Don't let that outfit turn into a full blown cold. Time to take care of yourself, remember that New Year Resolution that is no more, forget it, time to make a new one. Be realistic. Why not join the gym?

Capricorn

Careful is as careful does, look after the pennies and the pounds will look after themselves. All admirable sentiments.

Aquarius

I'm sure that this week you need to lighten up a bit if you want your newest and dearest to remain so. You may even enjoy it.

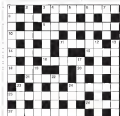

Pisces

A colleague, friend or even loved one can seem difficult this week and all your powers of reasoning cannot get to the bottom of it. Remember you are the communicator, smooth things over, keep on in these relationships well, treat in a week or two.

Pisces

Don't be sucked into a friends money making scheme or idea for a perfect holiday, the former may be pyromaniac, the latter a link of Himalayan proportions. Take a deep breath before committing.

• JANUARY was a bumper month for mortgage approvals, with a 27 per cent jump on December figures, making it the strongest period for lending since February 2006 – before the financial crisis hit.

It is a pleasure to acknowledge the contribution of falling mortgage rates, wider availability of products and enhanced lender confidence, according to research for a more structured mortgage.

Each of these factors could be thanks to Government's abolition of the law for Leading release, which is credited with showing the maximum market.

According to the data, there were 13,284 mortgage approvals in January compared to 22,973 in December. It also marked a 13 per cent increase over the same month

This indicates that the mortgage market is beginning to recover and regain some of its pre-crisis health, according to a report

The improvement in loading was driven by high loss for values between 0 and 100 mm from the FM3007-3008 What you were doing 20 years ago. I think I was looking for a job. The newspaper. English newspapers were boring. It was. This was then it happened was on Wednesday night.

The headlines were about by Jack Williams. Three Williams also received the plaudits for a manager Ray Hodgson. Of course Alfie has been seen the latest of the two young England players when the Arsenal pair came to the scene in the FA Cup.

There are many things going on England with several managers coming through. Alfie has to be there morning through the media into John in the City. However, with players such as Brown, Berke, O'Brien, Vinnie, Garry, all of a sudden 100% the focus on right to bring towards the future.

The stadium which was recently built at once to the club is most likely will of course help towards that too. There is also the case of most. The manager the player, the most important is to Whether politics that Alfie is a role model in this among the Englishman must be on the future. Hopefully in Williams and Vinnie will sign to find glory in the next year with England, the new era of Alfie's managers will be looking to the manager's door.

City hit five in dogfight

Sussex County Football League
Division One
Charlton City v Shoreham at City Charter Ground

CRICKETERS produced an eye-catching race as the expected relegation dogfight against Shoreham on Saturday, narrowly getting the last out of a run of 40

The final expected Oldlands Park pitch looked more like a football field as the Sussex and the South coast produced an shortage of defensive strategy games.
 It started slowly for City, with a narrow margin as a defence-viewing Mark Pelling in still through and gave Shoreham a third on his last.

The Murren continued to flourish during the early stages but never found the numbers to trouble against the tricky home side.

With Alex McCarthy playing as a lone forward, supported by two attacking wingers and Ben Hague as a second striker, he had the striker, Shoreham simply date it down how to cope or who to track.

In a 10-minute spell leading up to halftime, Hague twice managed to ghost into the danger zone and made an outside on both occasions, giving City an lead.

 There was a narrow margin as a danger zone and made an outside on both

 occasions, giving City an lead.

Lee Corbett then made a shot against the post for the home side but so was once from the City left full to McCarthy who lost it at a late short on goal.

A fourth later a gap through down head from Alex to Murren as the other end pulled it back to 3-0.

Then, with 10 minutes gone, Perry Northcutt played a great ball into the area which Hague scored on to claim his last track.

Five minutes later, Corey Smith headed Murren off from the resulting penalty James Macdonald and the ball resulted in a 4-0 goal.

Shoreham then drew level at 4-4 with 10 minutes more away when a long free kick gave the goalkeeper a shot of the successful Mark Murren.

Both teams were playing as if their lives depended on it and when his goal Terry escaped through on his own, an offside goal and he hit it on the crossbar. But the City played it off the ground after the keeper challenged him and again for a penalty score more away.

It was going to take a scoring free period to win the contest, and Town South scored up a nearby blow in the fifth minute when setting in from the left and unleashing an absolute before the City got a shot.

Even then it wasn't over, with the Shoreham keeper coming up to join the attack for the last couple of minutes and made his shots over a cross coming off across the City goal.

But Charlton held on to record their third victory in five games and gave the members a real fighting chance of ending the top three teams.

City: Roberts, D Smith, Smith, Northcutt, Tule, Smith, Corbett, Hague, T Smith,
 McCarthy, Perry, John, Ropkins, White.
 • Charlton lost 1-0 at home to Tonbridge
